The Youth Hostel Issues Good Report; Ambitious Program

The second annual report of the American Youths Hostel has been issued and shows that the organization has made a tremendous stride forward since its doors were opened in December, 1934.

Today there are 76 hostels chartered and these have sheltered 13,500 overnight guests at a charge not exceeding twenty-five cents per night. In 1936 there were 4797 pass holders. In 1934 the American organization became a part of the International movement as the 18th member. Edgar A. Livingston is the auditor and his report for the year ending December 31, 1936 shows total assets of properties, equipment, etc., of $26,674 and total liabilities upon the same of $31,038. The income for the year was $17,894 and the expenditures $16,243.

At the meeting of the National Board an ambitious program was presented and promises a full development of the hostel idea in New England; a raising of all standards and an aggressive expansion in other sections of the states where sufficient supervision can be afforded. Directors Monroe and Isabel Smith have done a yeoman's service for the movement and whatever success has come to it, is through their efforts of sacrifice and devotion.

The budget for this year calls for an expenditure of $73,500. With an estimated income of $33,500 about $40,000 must be secured through the generous gifts of its friends.

The Youth Hostel movement is a national undertaking; it is wholly altruistic. No personal profit accrues to any individual, all funds being wholly used in the interest of and in the advancement of the work. Northfield should give full and complete encouragement to the movement. Not only is the local hostel No. 1 located here in the former Sankey premises but the national headquarters are situated here.

Taxpayers' Associations Have A New Leader

George E. Pellissier, president of the Holyoke Taxpayers' association for the past two years, and street railway official in Holyoke since 1917, has assumed the duties of organization director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' associations.

During his presidency of the Holyoke association, a cordial feeling between city officials and the organization has developed to such an extent that the Mayor has openly expressed the wish that other citizens would take a similar interest in civic affairs. The association, under Mr. Pellissier's leadership, has successfully aroused Holyoke taxpayers to their sense of civic responsibility, and has done much to place the city in a favorable position as regards taxation and government.

Mr. Pellissier, who was born in Old Hadley, and attended the public schools and Hopkins Academy there, was instrumental in bringing to this country the aluminothermic process of welding. A member of the Holyoke Kiwanis club for the past twenty years, Mr. Pellissier is a past lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis in New England. Long interested in the Boy Scout movement, he has been president of the Holyoke Council of Boy Scouts for the past six years, and was delegate to the National Council of Boy Scouts. He possesses the Silver Beaver award for distinguished service to boyhood.

The Christian Endeavor orchestra played during the supper hour and group singing was led by George Clapp. There were remarks by visiting pastors including Rev. George Tuttle, superintendent of the Congregational churches of Western Massachusetts and Clarence Parsons of Amherst, vice-president of the state Christian Endeavor union. Mrs. Kenneth H. Rice read an original piece, "O, Happy Days." A play, "Son of God," was given by the Whately society directed by their pastor, Rev. Byron Gustin. Rev. Charles L. Approving Letters

A number of letters have come to Rev. Mr. Conner in approval of the folder which was mailed the Monday after Easter. One in town, without Unitarian connection, wrote: "I feel urged to thank you for preparing this careful statement and to inform you that I believe you have performed a service for all who are willing to look truth in the face and accept the facts rather than to hide behind some misconception which has held away for years..."

"I am sure that the point made in your addendum is sound, and I wish that the day of its realization might be hastened."

Robbins Is Chosen For Fifth Term As District Supt.

Linville W. Robbins of Northfield has been chosen for the fifth time, district superintendent of schools for the towns of Northfield, Gill, Bernardston, Leyden and Warwick.

The choice was made by the members of the various school committees of which there are three from each town. At an informal meeting held some time ago Mr. Robbins was nominated and at the recent dinner meeting at the Northfield hotel, members of the school committees met and made the selection.

Mr. Robbins resides in Northfield and came here from Stoughton on July 15, 1925, to begin his work as district superintendent. With his wife and family he resides on Parker street. He has given a divided portion of his time to each town for the supervision of school matters and has witnessed much constructive work accomplished in the many individual schools. His principal office is in the high school building, Northfield.

Seek Funds Here For Hospital At Brattleboro, Vt.

For the purpose of relieving the crowded conditions which have prevailed at Brattleboro Memorial hospital for a long period a campaign has been launched to raise $55,000 for the construction of a three-story brick addition to the institution, and within a week or 10 days a committee of Northfield citizens will be appointed to assist the building fund campaign committee in its undertaking.

The campaign was launched in Brattleboro March 10 and since that time the general committee has been mapping out its plans for work in the surrounding communities served by the institution.

Many of the townspeople in Northfield have been cared for in the Memorial hospital and this will give an opportunity for them to show their appreciation and to help this worthy project for the benefit of others.

There have been many of our Northfield girls who have studied in the school and become efficient nurses giving them their life work. It would seem that there are many reasons why this appeal should receive hearty support in this community.

Meanwhile the building committee, of which Harold W. Mason is chairman, has studied carefully the preliminary plans for the building, submitted recently, by Harry K. White of New York with the result that the committee is ready to accept the plans with minor alterations, and enter into contracts for the construction work as soon as the desired amount is available. "So far as the building committee is concerned," Mr. Mason said, "we could break ground at once if the financial campaign should make it possible."

Brattleboro Memorial hospital was opened in November, 1904. During the first year 217 patients were admitted and 169 surgical operations were performed, which far exceeded expectations. Demands for the services of the institution have increased steadily until at the annual meeting last December—32 years after it was opened—the report of the superintendent showed 1765 patients admitted during 1936 and more than 300 operations performed. It is estimated that more than 25,000 patients have received treatment at the institution.

Senator Lodge Speaks On Radio

Many were privileged to listen to the address of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., over the radio the other night. He spoke in opposition to the President's Supreme court plan and his talk has won much favorable comment everywhere. Massachusetts can well be proud of its new Senator. The Senator's address was pulsated with good judgment, logical reasoning and attested the fact that he had studied the problem presented.

HENRY CABOT LODGE, JR.

Among some of the utterances he enunciated were:

"A ruthless man—who might sometime come—taking advantage of the precedent which the President now proposes to establish, would appoint puppet judges to the supreme court."

"Thomas Jefferson implied it is better to toss a coin and abide by the flip of heads or tails than to put your faith in the hands of a puppet judge."

"Shall we say to every future presidential candidate, 'What sort of constitution have you in mind; how many members do you want to add or take away from the supreme court? If you propose some fundamental change in our government do you want to amend the constitution or do you want to amend the court?'"

"Or shall we say to the peoples of the United States:—

"The future of our sons and daughters is secure. The United States shall continue under a written constitution. If there is to be a change in the fundamental law of the land, we, the people, shall decide it."

"... Let us not exchange the slavery of the machine age for the bondage of bureaucracy, let us restore the promise of American life without being ground under foot either by the tyranny of politics or the tyranny of money. We got rid of the political tyrant when we won our independence as a nation. We can shake off the tyranny of money."

"An economic royalist is bad, but so is a political royalist. Indeed, the political royalist is worse because he soon becomes an economic royalist as well. We need not, we must not go from the frying pan into the fire."

Senator Lodge declared there are "in the Senate more Democrats than Republicans opposed" to President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal.

PUBLIC FORUM

Dear Mr. Editor:

The people of Northfield and of Franklin county can do their part to stop the "sit-down" strikes by standing for justice to every working man and woman. Right now in our midst is happening something which we can support with all our enthusiasm; that is, the Wilson store and others in Greenfield in their decision to close the stores Saturday nights. At first it may inconvenience some of us in an old established custom of Saturday night shopping. But if we view this courageous step, some merchants are taking in Greenfield, from a strictly unselfish point of view, we shall all help them.

From a personal experience along this same line in another locality—the venture was bitterly opposed by some at first. After a year's trial the result to everyone was so advantageous that the vote was unanimous to make the closing plan permanent.

One of the cars was driven by a Northfield resident and the other by one from Greenfield. The highway is extremely dangerous at this point, narrow with vision obscured. For years residents of this section have clamored for something to be done by the town in the proper widening of Winchester road, perhaps the most neglected highway in Northfield. LOCALS

This is just a reminder to you, fair reader, that Sunday, May 24 is Mothers' Day.

The Baptist church of Shelburne Falls has called to its pastorate, effective May 31, the Rev. W. Hubert Porter, pastor of the Carew street Baptist church of Springfield.

"Romeo and Juliet" returns to the Auditorium in Brattleboro at popular prices. It is presented on the screen word for word and line for line as Shakespeare wrote it. Don't fail to see it this Friday and Saturday. You will like it!

The weather man affords us no monotony in climatic conditions these days. A glance from our windows Thursday morning had the appearance of winter's return. The ground was covered with snow; it had rained steadily and with the low temperature readily turned to ice. Let's hope buds and blossoms were not injured.

An unusual list of very fine properties is being offered for sale in Northfield at prices ranging from $2500 to $10,000. Some parties from out of town were here recently to look them over.

The Tuesday afternoon Bible class will next meet on May 4 for the final session, at the home of Mrs. L. H. Lazelle on Glenwood avenue.

The Ladies Benevolent society of Northfield Farms will hold their annual meeting on May 1.

The dogs of Dr. Wright and John Callahan were both killed instantly last Tuesday evening on Main street near the library while in a playful mood by an automobile driven by Brainard Willey who in no way was to blame.

Two automobiles one of a Northfield resident, the other of a Vernon resident, came together at the East Northfield station railroad bridge Wednesday afternoon. No one was hurt but the cars were badly damaged.

1937 Ford V-8

● If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

● Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

● When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself:

"Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.

Ford V-8 $529 at Dealership. Price includes transportation charges, State and Federal taxes extra. This price is for the 60-horsepower Coupe equipped with front and rear bumpers, spare tire, horn, windshield wiper, sun visor, glove compartment, and ash tray.

$25 A MONTH, after small down-payment, buys any Ford V-8 Car, from any Ford dealer, anywhere in the U. S., through Authorized Ford Finance Plans of Universal Credit Co.

EDITORIAL

This week is being observed throughout the nation as Humane Week, or in other words, "Be Kind to Animals Week." It is a mighty good idea that at least once a year we are officially reminded that we need to be considerate of those animals, who, although seeing and hearing, cannot speak our language except as they convey their intelligence through acts and eye. No man is worthy of any respect or confidence who intentionally abuses any one of the lower creatures and I might add that a man is not a man who fails to provide adequately for his dependent animals. I love my dog, neighbor, do you love your animals?

The articles in last week's Press on getting New England ready for the summer tourist has evidenced considerable interest. In a normal year three million people come to New England for their vacations and spend approximately $500,000,000. The vacationists dollar permeates every town including Northfield and we receive here far more than the average share. By all odds Northfield leads all towns in Franklin county for summer sojourners. It is said that of every dollar spent by visitors, 20 cents goes for transportation, 20 cents for food, 20 cents for accommodations, 25 cents for purchases, 9 cents for amusement and 6 cents for extra. New England towns are better off with better living conditions by reason of this recreational industry. It's a "wise guy" who nurtures it.

Taking the profits out of war is a popular idea, but there is more to it than just a slogan. At close range "deprofiting" war does not appear to lend itself easily to legislation. In fact, the Foreign Policy Association in a report just published winds up with the declaration that the only sure way of taking profits out of war is not to go to war at all.

The Back Yard Gardener

Say, did I get educated last week? Ordinarily, when I visit a nurseryman it's just to buy some plants. At this day I decided to pay a social visit.

For one thing, I found that roses are handled a good deal differently than they used to be. You know we always used to buy our roses in a dormant stage with bare roots, but now they are potted into paper pots during March and then they are put into a dark cold frame which causes the roots to develop rather than the tops. Some time in May the covers of the cold frame are removed and the plants sold. This way you can transplant them as late as July without too much danger of harming or killing the bush. Of course, these are a little bit more expensive than roses handled the other method, but the prices are still quite reasonable.

It is still possible to buy roses dormant, but my nurseryman guide told me that if you want to handle roses in the dormant stage May 15 is the very latest date that you should attempt to do it.

Well, this led me to ask about other things in storage, and he took me into his huge cool, darkened room, that was a just crammed full of deciduous shrubs and trees of all kinds that had been dug late in the fall. He had their roots packed in wet sawdust and he watered them quite frequently during the winter.

He had taken all these shrubs and graded them over so that we back yard gardeners get only the best.

And speaking of shrubs, if you take a suggestion from the nurseryman, right now is a mighty good time to do your transplanting around the home grounds. Just last Saturday I moved several shrubs, some snowberries and some ninebarks. At the same time I learned something about transplanting, which was that a well grouped shrub in the center of the lot improves the appearance 100 per cent over one that is scattered here and there.

Another thing I learned from my nursery friend was about collecting laurel, rhododendron, azalea, and so forth. The thing to do is to cut them back down to the ground when they are moved. He said that causes the roots to start growth from the crown of the plant and it means a plant that is well shaped. So if you decide to do any collecting of shrubbery from the great out-of-doors, don't be afraid to cut them back.

He also told me that to make rhododendron, laurel, azalea, etc., grow real good strong plants, you give them plenty of cotton seed meal and apply it right now. He suggested 1000 pounds to the acre, which in our language is about one-third of a pound per plant.

And while we are talking about plant food, I'd like to remind you that April is the time to fertilize your lawn. There is nothing that keeps a lawn looking better than plenty of food. About 1 pound to 100 square feet is a good rate when you are using a complete fertilizer which has an analysis of 10-6-4. 8-6-2 or 8-4-2 are also good fertilizers, but you need to apply them at a little heavier rate.

A SONG OF BOOKS

A book is like a magic box—
Brimful of lovely treasure;
One quaint, old-fashioned key Unlocks
Good gifts in generous measure:

Gay songs, and words like jewels
Old, Tales carved from ancient times,
And shining legends set in gold,
And chains of silver rhymes.

A book is like a white-sailed ship
Across bright waters bearing On many a blithe and jaunty trip

Of pleasure, search or daring—
To lands of flower, and lands of snow,
Bright shore and lonely bay,
To strange old quays of long ago,
And harbors of today.

A book is like a faithful friend,
With heart that's always ready
A comrade faithful to the end,
Wise, understanding, steady;

Good company at school, at home,
Gay pal for cozy nooks, Heigho, for now and years to come

Let's sing the praise of books.
—Nancy Byrd Turner

Crowned Champion Cook

America's champion cooking honors this year went to Mrs. Helen P. Angell of Columbus, Ohio, shown above as she prepared a barbecued chicken on a modern automatic gas range in the second annual "Cook-off" held recently in Grand Central Palace, New York, by a national women's association. With a degree of bachelor of science in household arts, Mrs. Angell bested the cream of the nation's cooks in this unusual contest.

THERE ARE HOMES

So long as there are homes to which men turn
At the close of day;

So long as there are homes where children are,
Where women stay—

If love and loyalty and faith be found

Across those hills

A stricken nation can recover from Its gravest ills.

So long as there are homes where fires burn

And there is bread;

So long as there are homes where lamps are lit

And prayers are said;
Although a people falter through the dark—

And nations grope—
With God Himself back of these little homes—
We have sure hope.

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Wischert
Supervisor of Motor Vehicle

SELDOM does the motorist take any more than passing interest in his car's cooling system. But the minute the motor becomes overheated, he investigates it.

More often than not he finds the trouble could easily have been prevented.

A slack fan belt often causes overheating. Motorists should realize how important it is to keep the fan working smoothly. It is largely responsible for cooling the motor.

Either they should make the adjustment themselves or have a mechanic do this minor job. Another simple preventive step is to lubricate the ball bearings in the fan mechanism now and then.

Many motorists unintentionally interfere with cooling systems by placing obstructions in front of radiators. They probably do not realize that they are reducing the free penetration of air through the radiator when they fasten license tags, shields, and other objects; but they are. It is the flow of air sucked through the radiator cores by the fan that keeps the water cooled.
Any interference with the air supply necessarily reduces the efficiency of the cooling system.

An overheated motor has caused many an accident.

The young shipping clerk went into the store to buy a fountain pen. The salesgirl gave him one to try, and he filled a page with the word, "Fragile."

The salesgirl offered him another and said: "Perhaps you'd like this one better, Mr. Fragile."

Mrs. Roy A. Barrows was re-treasurer. The club held their annual meeting at the home of tional church. Appointment of the various committees were made to conduct the work for the coming year.

From Franconia, N. H., comes a report that the "Old Man of the Mountain" is badly in need of repair. Stones are slipping by the action of water and ice and the state's greatest natural wonder is in danger of disfiguration.
It is planned to do something about the matter at once and preserve it from further damage.
Other states like Georgia and Dakota spend millions to carve faces in their solid rock but here is one which nature carved and tourists by the millions have gazed upon the profile.
